It all started with a mouse

Walter Elias Disney (to learn about him look at my project about him) started with a mouse we now know as Mickey Mouse and the first cartoon ever made from Disney was SteamBoat Willie. The film was created in 1928 by Walt Disney Studios. The film was made 5 years after Walt created his company in Los Angeles. This was not the first appearance of the mouse. Mickey had appeared many other times during the first 5 years of Walt's company. Through his long history Mickey Mouse had taken many forms.

Disneyland

Disney opened Disneyland in July 7 of 1955. He bought a piece of land the was thought to be enough. Over time the park has extended and ran out of room to build more to add on. Walt was at the grand opening and the park had some mistakes. While building the park the sponsoring company was almost out of money. So some rides could not be built right away. The park expanded and some of the original rides and buildings still exist. Walt could not live to see what the park became. He saw it as a movie and Main Street USA was the opening scene with credits on the windows.

Disney World

Walt Disney world is located in Orlando Florida. Walt personally selected the land but died before the park could be built. This was a park that disney imagineers had to create thinking like Walt. the land was much bigger than Disneyland and it is its own city. The park is so famous and is filled everyday of the year. It consists of hotels, the Magic Kingdom, the Animal Kingdom, Epcot, and Disney Orlando Studios. The park is so big it is its own city with its own electricity and water. The park was given Cinderella's castle making it the park's centerpiece and most famous part.

Articulated Character

Disney started their living character initiative in the mid 2000s. Which wanted characters from Disney to be more realistic and more fun for guests. Articulated characters first came in Walt Disney World in 2007. Articulated characters are more realistic characters. Characters can move their mouths and blink their eyes because of the initiative.
